- > Nursing Home and elderly day-care facilities
- > Assisted home care for the elderly, disabled, and incontinent

Professional Isodermica line for hygiene, prevention and protection with "very high affinity" with the skin.

Proper daily skin hygiene, as well as the usage of dermatological solutions for prevention and protection, are fundamental to reduce the onset of possible skin pathologies. Moreover, they ensure a higher quality of life and overall wellbeing.

That is why our team of expert researchers have developed a specific line of high-quality dermocosmetic products for those with the most fragile skin. Every day, hundreds of thousands of nursing home and hospital patients are cared for using our unique BIODERM® ISODERMICA methodology for daily hygiene, prevention and dermatological protection.

The correct use of each product is explained in a simple and complete way in our Application Method provided to all Healthcare Professionals. The BIODERM Application Method® ensures the maximum dermatological well-being of the patient, is practical and safe for operators, and contributes to the efficiency and quality of the services offered by residential facilities.

The BIODERM® ISODERMICA line is also used and appreciated by Home Care Professionals and Caregivers.

BIODERM® ISODERMICA is distributed in the pharmaceutical channel in selected stores.
